

Alan Lobaugh, Ph.D, LPC/S, RPT-S

Assistant Professor,
Clinical Mental Health Counseling Program

Email: alobaugh@usw.edu

Phone: 817.781.2346

Education

Doctor of Philosophy, The University of North Texas, Denton, TX, 1991

Dissertation: Teaching Filial Therapy to Incarcerated Parents

Master of Divinity, The Graduate Seminary of Phillips University, Enid, OK, 1982

Bachelor of Arts, major: Mathematics and Religion, Phillips University, Enid, OK, 1979

Academic, Research, and/or Professional Experience

Dr. Alan Lobaugh, Assistant Professor in the CMHC Program at USW, has been with the university since 2015. He trains small group facilitators for “The Warm Place” which provides counseling for children who’ve experienced the death of a loved one. He also serves as a founding board member and leader in “The Nurse Family Partnership for Tarrant County,” which is a program to match nurses with first time pregnant women to reduce the infant mortality rate in the county. Dr. Lobaugh is an ordained minister in the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) and serves a small congregation in Fort Worth, TX. Dr. Lobaugh was named outstanding alumni of The Graduate Seminary at Phillips University in 2009. His dissertation has been referenced numerous times in subsequent studies. He currently supervises the Interns in the CMHC program.

Interests

Sports, movies (especially Sci-Fi), books, travel. Most recent trip was to Amsterdam and Cologne.

Fun Facts

Dr. Lobaugh spent a semester abroad in Sweden during college. He can speak a little Swedish. He has been married to Dana since 1984. They have three grown children.